Coaching 1 to Support Implementation of REC 2120 – CTS Course with Susan Yackulic

June 24, 2010 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: CTS Health Services and Physical Education Teachers

ABOUT THIS LEARNING OPPORTUNITY:

A CTS course in the Physical Education domain? A new coaching course now exists within CTS. A new project "Paving Health Pathways" is promoting training options and promoting health careers for students to work towards post secondary certificates in health, recreation and human services occupations. Coaching was identified as a career pathway! Do you want to train students to become coaches? Are you interested in becoming a better coach or encouraging others to be a coach? If so, you should consider this opportunity for teacher training. Teachers who choose this training will be recognized as a National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) Learning Facilitator for the four NCCP modules listed below and following successful completion of Coaching 1 – REC 2120 the students would receive NCCP trained recognition.

This workshop is focused on "training the teacher to be a facilitator" in four of the new NCCP multi-sport Competition-Introduction modules: Introduction to the "new" NCCP; Planning a Practice; Teaching and Learning; and Basic Mental Skills.

Each teacher will be provided with a Learning Facilitator Guide, a Coach Workbook and Reference Material for the above 4 modules.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Susan Yackulic's work as an Association Instructor has taken her throughout Alberta and British Columbia over the past twelve years. She has passionately presented workshops at professional development days, conventions, and conferences. Her facilitation practice includes over twenty years of work as an advanced learning facilitator for the National Coaching Certification Program of Canada. Her teaching career has included a variety of curriculum areas such as Physical Education, French, Language Arts, Drama, Math, Science, Social Studies and English 30.
