AIM (Wendy Maxwell's Gesture Approach) and the Alberta Program of Studies with Junior High Students with Rhonda Murphy

August 17 & 18, 2010 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Grade 7-9 FSL Teachers

ABOUT THIS LEARNING OPPORTUNITY:

The Accelerative Integrative Methodology (AIM) is not just for young learners – adolescents love it too! In fact, students, teachers, administrators and parents across the country are excited to see the results of this approach in junior high classrooms! In this interactive, hands-on workshop, Rhonda Murphy shares how she uses the new program Jeunesse en action! to motivate and engage her junior high French as a Second Language (FSL) students. Rhonda will show how teachers can use gestures, drama, songs, questioning techniques and error analysis to introduce and reinforce high-frequency vocabulary and grammatical structures. Come see for yourself how the Outcomes of the Program of Studies can still be met through using this methodology to develop high levels of fluency in secondary French students.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Rhonda Murphy (B.Ed.), a certified AIM presenter, has taught FSL to junior high students for the past 10 years with Edmonton Public School Board. After attending her first AIM session in 2004, she began to practice this methodology and incorporated gestures, drama and song into her teaching. For the past seven years, she has used AIM in her classes with Histoires en action!, Histoires en action! Add-on Kit and, most recently, Jeunesse en action! Encouraged by her students' ability to communicate seulement en français, she strives to make each passing year more AIM friendly.
