Senior High Math Supper Session: Teaching Strategies for Combined Math 10 with Terry Melnyk March 9, 2010 from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Senior High Math Teachers

ABOUT THIS LEARNING OPPORTUNITY:

We will explore a variety of instructional approaches designed to meet the diverse needs of learners in Alberta's new Foundations for Mathematics and Pre-calculus 10 curriculum. Take home a detailed analysis of the curriculum changes plus instructional strategies and classroom ready activities for differentiating instruction within the new curriculum. Using certain activities, lessons, media elements and interactive technologies integrated throughout McGraw-Hill Ryerson's Math 10 resource package, participants will explore ways to both engage students and enhance their conceptual understanding.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Terry Melnyk is currently the Department of Head of Mathematics at Centre High Campus in Edmonton Public Schools. His thirty-one years of experience as a teacher, department head, curriculum coordinator, mathematics consultant and author combine to bring an interactive approach to learning and teaching mathematics in the classroom. Terry believes in creating an engaging and dynamic learning environment focused on achieving success for all students.
