Digital Assessment in the Elementary Classroom with Aaron Ball

August 18, 2010 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Grades 2-6 Teachers

ABOUT THIS LEARNING OPPORTUNITY:

This session on digital assessment will deal mainly with Smart Response tools including Smart Response LE, PE, CE and XE. We will examine the larger picture of assessment and where digital assessments like Smart Response fits in your planning. This session explores the many question types that can be created and how they can be used to uncover deeper student understanding. We will also discuss classroom management around these quick response tools. You will be given guidance in the creation of classroom lists, creation of questions, quizzes, tests, and exams. Also included is the use of online digital assessment tools like Google Forms and polleverywhere.com.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Aaron Ball is an Emerging Technologies Consultant with Edmonton Catholic schools. His Masters in Educational Studies centered around the use of videos games as inquiry-based learning tools. In the classroom he has used web 2.0 tools to engage students and keep open dialogue with parents. In his first year of teaching Aaron was recognized by Edmontonian's magazine in the 2005 Sizzling 20 Under 30 for his work as a Microsoft Innovative teacher. He will challenge you, involve you, and give you the guidance to ease your journey to achieving your goals.
